

Night Life in New York City

L.A. is considered as the capital of celebrity of the world, but anyone in New York will never be at a loss for some fun or any cultural activities. In my article for the readers I have mentioned few of the best places of night hang outs in New York where they can kick back, unwind and leave the day behind. Night life in New York includes various types of hang out places like Bars, Cocktail Lounges, Billiards, Dance Clubs, Hotel Bars, Comedy Clubs, music Clubs, Sports Bars, Piano Bars, Jazz & Blues Clubs depending upon various price range to refresh and boost up your energy level.

In New York you can always hear any type of music, from plenty of jazz, pogoing punk to thumping hip-hop on any night of the week the live music scene very well reflects New York's diversity. If you are looking out for some quite a few dance clubs with cheesy numbers or hard-hitting drum tunes from the late 1970s and 1980s, you can even get that in New York.

New York has one of the world's greatest theater centers, showing over the top lavish music. When comes to film, the city has various options of several large theaters, art house cinemas, numerous revival and to many to count Hollywood blockbusters multiplexes. NYC also has presence of wonderful comedy clubs, as well as excellent poetry slam scene and healthy spoken world.

From Joe's Pub to Cutting-edge Knitting Factory to S.O.B.'s, New York has numerous venues of live music, which cater more eclectic fare and world music. There are many jazz clubs with wide range of quality. Cover charges will run you from to or so at any of these smaller places. Touring bands are attracted from all over the world at many larger music venues, and the price of the ticket may range from to 0.

The club life in the New York is very formless; Parties are changed rapidly, so check out the Time Out New York or The Village Voice before making any plans. Drum'n' bass, 1980's Nostalgia, and Electronica are now making their place on clubs. Though Dancehall reggae, funk, Latin freestyle and hip-hop get their due. There is no point to visit those places earlier as it starts rocking just before midnight. Try to visit during week, as the prices are cheaper, service is better and the crowd is smaller.

Even if you are not crazy about theater, going and seeing a play or a musical concert in New York is virtually authentic, various theater venues are referred to as Off-Broadway or Broadway offering a descending order of ticket price, elegance, comfort and production polish. Broadway offers large numbers of musicals dramas, comedies with big name actors, mostly Broadways are located all over Manhattan and between 40th and 52nd streets. Listing of Broadway appears in free, check out The Village Voice or Time Out

New York for official Broadway Theater guide. Ticket prices range from -100, -50, or around . The prices of the shows can be reduced up to 25 to 50 percent off, if you stand in booth line on the performance day.

Classical music is taken seriously by the New Yorkers. Many concerts sell long queues form for anything famous, quarter of a million people may come in Central Park to watch free performance by the New York Philharmonic on summer evenings. Apart from Lincoln Center, Carnegie Hall is the most important venue; here from all the schools of music greatest names have.

Metropolitan Opera in Lincoln Center is 120 year old, and is New York's premier venue for opera. The theater has superb sound system, which draws a large number of crowds who come to hear tenors, baritones and sopranos from all over the world. The nosebleed seats are very cheap. Performances are also hosted in the New York State Theater in Lincoln Center, they perform with modern interpretation, and their performance of The Nutcracker is very popular.

Lincoln Center and Brooklyn Academy of Music is considered as the most dignified venues for operas, dances and classical. Lincoln Center serves as a showcase when it comes to dance. Even though other venues regularly host events, the Brooklyn Academy of Music at 30 Lafayette St, between St Felix Street and Ashland Place in Brooklyn is America's oldest performing academy of arts. Back in Manhattan, at the City Center six dance troupes are in residence, along with America's two choreographic giants, the Paul Taylor Dance Company and the Merce Cunningham Dance Company.

After a hectic day in New York City you can step-in for chilling and relaxing out at any bar, dine and clubbing. For more information about what's on any particular week, check out Time Out New York or The Village Voice, available from newsstands citywide.

About the Author

Anil Yadav wrote this article on behalf of Globester.com For more information on flights to New York City discount airline tickets and travel tips for visiting New York City you can visit Globester.com

