“Top Gun” Tactics To Meeting Women In Bars Attending a speed dating function a few weeks ago I had the opportunity to meet several participants ready to begin the lucky dip. I asked Bob (an slightly overweight 45y/o middle aged man) why he prefers speed dating over meeting women in bars and he put it down to simply:

- Doesn't have to approach (Therefore no anxiety)

- 15-20 girls are there so he's bound to walk away with a few numbers (reinforces the numbers game) Telling me this it made me realize that bars and clubs are no better or worse in meeting women, however 'new age' dating techniques such as TXT flirting, online dating, speed dating, balls n bashes aimed at singles are designed to eliminate the approach part of meeting people. Why are men so afraid of approaching women? We cover this in our Dating Workshops. I firmly believe that the only way to better yourself and become confident in approaching women is to push yourself beyond your comfort zone and rub shoulders with guys who know what they're doing. Approaching:

Being in the moment as opposed to being in your head is a great way to start conversations with women of a 'cold' approach. The longer it takes you to start a conversation when walking into a bar filled with people the more you talk yourself out of it. Which brings me to stress how important it is to APPROACH within a matter of seconds of seeing the woman. Have you enjoyed these great tips? Would you like to know more? Every weekend we hold our live workshops around Australia. Imagine being able to confidently approach any attractive woman in the bar, have an interesting conversation and get her phone number, what would that mean to you? This is your life we're talking about here so take action now and start dating more women. Talk soon In your corner, Alex www.datingworkshops.com.au

About the Author

At an early age attracting women was #1 on his list of 'things to master'. He began to slowly realise that women were not looking for a 'romantic' man or a man that was funny, enjoyed long walks on the beach and liked buying women flowers, even though women say this all the time.

“Women don't know what they want” says Alex and his fellow attraction coaches agree.
