

Free Singles Club Can Change Your Life

Do you like traveling? Well am passionate about it. I always had a secrete desire to travel and visit many places, but never got the opportunity to do that. Now I plan to fulfill my dream before I join my new full time job. I have decided to travel across North America. I plan to start from Florida and work my way up to New York, then cut straight across and get into California. I heard that traveling is expensive. I'm only bringing 950$ per year from the part time job which I feel is not enough. So I need to do odd jobs here and there to increase the earning. May be it sounds like a stupid plan, but I know it's gonna work, it has to as i want to travel and see different parts of the world. I am single. In fact i always like being single and be in myself. That's the reason i spent the last 3 years of my university life trying to avoid girls. Believe me life is quite exciting and adventurous if you are single and free. But traveling alone can be quite boring and I don't have a girl friend who can join me on my expedition. It's not as if there is something wrong with me, I always like to be single. That's why i spent the last 3 years of my university life trying to avoid girls. May be I will just look for some other singles to join me on my expedition. In fact I have heard a lot about the free singles in California and I am really looking forward to meet a few on the way. I plan to go out in three weeks time. I hope by that time I will have enough savings and also I need to purchase the essentials things that are required for traveling like a nice pair of shoes, a backpack, and a digital camera. Probably my brother Keith may also join me. So wish me luck guys, on my expedition that I would soon begin.
