

Allowing Abundance Into Your Life

In order to experience and enjoy the unstoppable flow of riches that is waiting for you, you need to be aware of every moment, conscious of the action you take. If you aren't able to live in this moment, you will always have a feeling of wanting more, needing more. Are Your Actions Conscious? You can stop living an unconscious life and begin use conscious action to create the abundance you desire. Time is an illusion and we only have the present moment, where we are right now. That's why it's so important that you are conscious and content with your current circumstances. Since we only have the moment we are in, shouldn't we make it be the best moment? I can do exactly that when I use my conscious guidance system. When you live in the moment, you do not take action that is based in fear. All is well in the moment. You've no reason to focus on mistakes from the past, or focus on fear or anxiety over goals you have yet to achieve. If you are fully present, you can easily tap into your inner guidance system and find the inspiration to take conscious action and create change. We all have an inner guidance system. It's the little voice you hear, call it intuition, call it a vibe. Whatever you call it, this system guides your action. So if you pay attention, if you are conscious of your inner guidance system, you won't need to react to situations and feelings blindly, without conscious thought. Tapping into your conscious guidance system allows you to create your life with intention and work toward achieving your goal. Change is Easier When You Access Your Intuition For instance, I have learned that when I live simply in the moment, there is no reason to feel fear. Because the next moment simply takes care of itself and is exactly as it should be. Now that isn't to say I sit back and watch life pass me by. I am a person of action, but I use my inner guidance system to make sure that my action is conscious and inspired. You do not need to take action based on feelings of frustration or fear. You have your very own amazing inner guidance system. Taking conscious inspired action leads to achieving goals and a more abundant life. You have the ability to achieve the goals you set for yourself. You can release the anxiety, the fear, the concern you have over the future, knowing that your current situation is perfect right now. Don't allow yourself to spend time dwelling on the past, or fretting about the future. Use your inner guidance system to take conscious action that will move you closer to your goals.
